

The View from the Eclipse Path

Shauna Edson

Astronomy Educator

Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum
Washington, DC

Smithsonian
National Air and Space Museum

The View from the Eclipse Path

Many public viewing events will be held!

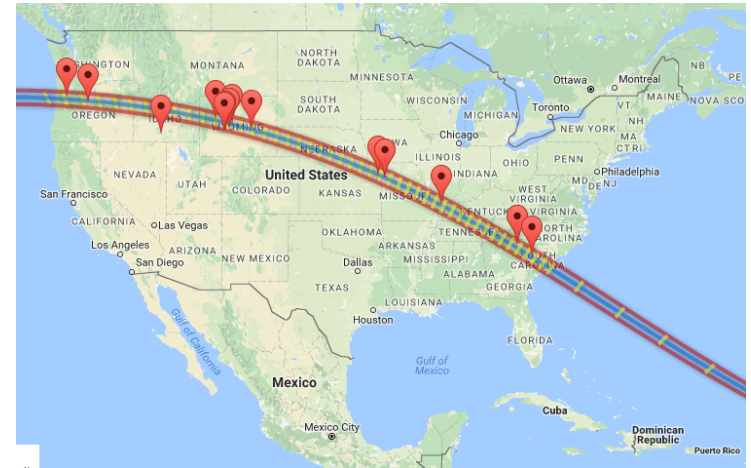

- Museums and science centers
- Municipalities
- State and federal parks
- Private businesses
- Schools and universities
- And more!

The View from the Eclipse Path

Finding eclipse events:

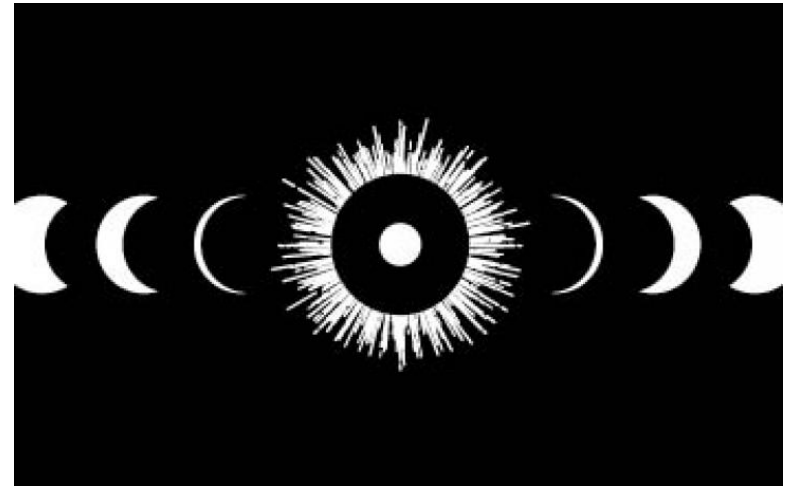

- NASA eclipse page
  - <http://eclipse2017.nasa.gov>
- National Eclipse page
  - <http://nationaleclipse.com/events.html>

The View from the Eclipse Path

Oregon Museum of Science and Industry

- Eclipse-day festivities begin at 6 am PT
  - Safe solar viewing
  - Astronomy activities
- Paid tickets required
- More information:
  - <https://www.oms.edu/calendar/2017-solar-eclipse-viewing-party>

Smithsonian
National Air and Space Museum

The View from the Eclipse Path

Wyoming State Parks

- Festival throughout the week prior to eclipse
- Eclipse-day event begins at 8 am MT
- Free and open to the public
- More information:
  - <http://wyoparks.state.wy.us/Press/SolarEclipse.aspx>

The View from the Eclipse Path

South Carolina State Museum

- Activities two days prior to eclipse
- Eclipse-day event begins at 12 pm ET
- Paid tickets required
- More information:
  - <http://scmuseum.org/eclipse/>

The View from the Eclipse Path

Universities holding eclipse events

- Southern Illinois University
- University of Missouri at Columbia
- Austin Peay State University

Smithsonian
National Air and Space Museum

The View from the Eclipse Path

Find partners!

- Get in touch with your local
  - Astronomy club
  - Museum or science center
  - Parks department
  - College or university
  - Private events venue
- Look up events planned in your state

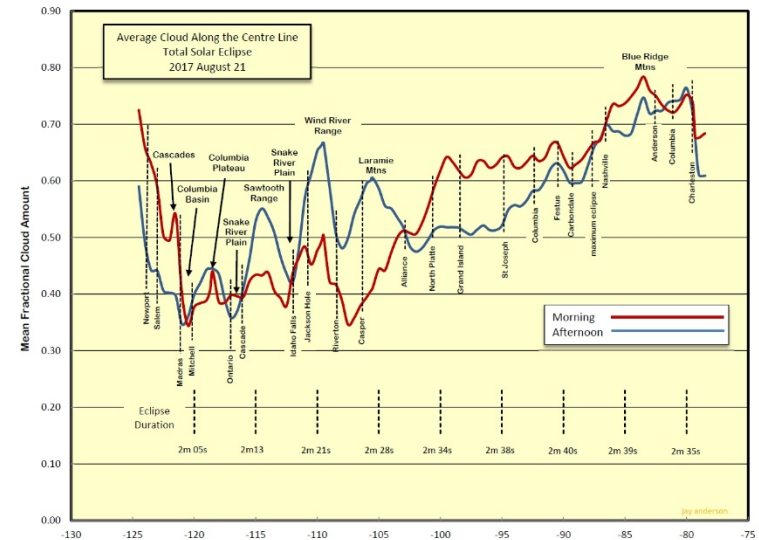

Smithsonian
National Air and Space Museum

The View from the Eclipse Path

Amateur astronomy community

- Experienced and knowledgeable
- Have planned years in advance
- Will go to great lengths to see totality

The View from the Eclipse Path

Good information and resources:

- AAS eclipse workshop at SIU
  - <https://aas.org/education/outreach/eclipse-2017>
  - <http://eclipse.siu.edu>
- Eclipsophile – amateur astronomy page
  - <http://eclipsophile.com/overview>
- Eclipse 2017
  - <http://www.eclipse2017.org>

