Emergency Transportation Operations

Getting you home safely

Parsons PLUS envision more

Nothing is more important at the end of the day than arriving home safely. Parsons is helping people in communities across the United States to do just that. Our Emergency Transportation Operations (ETO) division is a national leader in traffic incident management services focused on safety for responders and the traveling public.

Crashes happen, and it's important to have the right resources in advance. Our ETO team includes traffic incident management (TIM) trainers with decades of real-world experience as fire/rescue personnel, law enforcement officers, towing and recovery professionals, and DOT project managers. These incident management professionals deliver coordinated programs to better detect and remove incidents quickly, safely, and efficiently to keep traffic flowing. The sooner traffic moves, the better the chances of avoiding deadly secondary crashes.

Freeway service patrol responses managed

51%
Reduction in secondary crashes

+378%
Increase in TIM team participation

Our staff's real-world, hands-on experience puts us in the unique position to offer a comprehensive array of ETO services.

Full-Service Safety/Freeway Service Patrols

We provide comprehensive safety service patrol and operator training that is cost-effective, focused on customer response, and proven to reduce secondary incidents and improve responder safety.
